How to use:

Wash off your hair with a good conditioning shampoo. Blow-dry it after wash. Use a smoothing and conditioning shampoo when you have frizzy thick hair. For thin hair, you should opt for the volumizing products. Give your hair a towel dry after wash and follow with the blow dry. When drying the hair, do it from the roots to the tips. Comb your hair well and detangle unmanageable hairs. This makes the first step of hair straightening. The next step is to apply a heat protection spray. Do not compromise this step, and also do not opt for a cheaper product for the same. Avoid applying the serum onto roots as it would make hair greasy. Heat protection is inevitable when you look for hassle-free straightening.

While making the hair ready for straightening, divide the hair into layers, strands and sections. This would enable you focusing each part of the hair equally.

Set the iron into correct temperature. It mainly depends on the length of the hair. Follow the manual guide minutely.

Leave an inch from the root and start straightening. Straighten one layer of hair at a time. This way, repeat the method for each of the strands and layers.

Stop the process immediately if you discover any sizzle or steam at hair.

See yourself at mirror and enjoy the new hairstyle.
